

European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights

Personal information

Surname(s)

Fasciglione

First name(s)

Marco

Country

Italy

Current professional position

Researcher of International Law and of Human Rights Law at the Italian National Research Council (CNR)

Position on the MB

Alternate Member

Term of office on MB

July 2020 – July 2025

Additional Information

Since 2011, researcher of International Law and human rights Law at the Italian National Research Council (CNR) where he leads a research project in the field of business and human rights (BHR). In these areas he has published widely in peer-reviewed legal journals and has given lectures at symposia and seminars. Mr. Fasciglione has 20 years of experience concerning international human rights law, international mechanisms of protection human rights, access to remedies and protection of vulnerable categories. Former legal officer at the European Court of Human Rights, he has served as expert for national and international research institutions (REA-H2020, COST, EC DG Justice, MIUR-VQR). He is General editor of the peer-reviewed Journals Diritti umani e diritto internazionale and of the Journal La Cittadinanza europea online. He also serves as Co-director of the Summer School on Business and Human Rights. He is member of the European Law Institute, of the Italian Society of International Law, and of the Global Business and Human Rights Scholars Association.

Last Publication: "Business and Human Rights in the Age of Artificial Intelligence", in Federalismi.it 2/2022, pp. 164-183

Researchgate: @Marco_Fasciglione

Linkedin: @Marco_Fasciglione

Twitter: @Marco_Fasciglione